MEDIA ADVISORY

THE SAN JOSE POLICE DEPARTMENT IS PROUD TO RECEIVE CONNECTED WORLD MAGAZINE'S VALUE CHAIN AWARD

San Jose:

On Wednesday, June 15th of this year, in Chicago, Illinois, the San Jose Police Department was honored by Connected World magazine for technology innovation. Recipients of the award had to have utilized technological resources, strategies, and tactics to overcome their particular organizational challenges. Recipients were judged on individual merits and the extent to which they met several criteria, including the benefit to the overall business practices and productivity improvement. The San Jose Police Department received the Gold Award, which was the highest award given at the ceremony.

The San Jose Police Department conducted a pilot program utilizing a CIRA (Cellular Internet Routing Appliance) box which was attached to police vehicles. This device was equipped with a Wi-Fi router, allowing officers to connect laptop computers as well as e-citation and mobile fingerprinting devices over a local wireless network centered in their patrol vehicle. This enabled officers to remove the laptop computers in their cars and write reports outside of their vehicles. Officers also had the ability to monitor field events on the laptop from outside their patrol vehicles.

The device also provided two-way mobile broadband connection with police headquarters as well as GPS capabilities. According to Assistant Chief Diane Urban, "This technology is making a big difference in the way we do business." To read more about the award, visit www.connectedworldmag.com/conference.

San Jose Police Department Targets Impaired Drivers with Sobriety Checkpoint

The San Jose Police Department will conduct a sobriety in the city of San Jose on Saturday, May 28, 2011, from 9:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m.

In an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol-related crashes, sobriety checkpoints are conducted to identify offenders and get them off the street, as well as to educate the public on the dangers of impaired driving. All too often, members of our community are senselessly injured or killed on local roadways by impaired drivers. Checkpoints are implemented in an effort to reduce those tragedies. A major component of these checkpoints is to increase awareness about the dangers of impaired driving and to encourage sober designated drivers.

Sobriety checkpoints are a proven and effective method for achieving this goal. By publicizing these enforcement and educational efforts, the San Jose Police Department believes motorists can be deterred from drinking and driving.

Traffic volume and weather permitting, all vehicles entering the checkpoint may be checked, and drivers who are under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs will be arrested. Our objective is to send a clear message to those who are considering driving a motor vehicle after consuming alcohol and/or drugs: Drunk Driving, Over the Limit, Under Arrest.

The public is encouraged to help keep roadways safe by calling 9-1-1 if they observe a suspected impaired driver.

BUCKLE UP DAY AND NIGHT

One Million Californians Still Not Buckling Up

San Jose, Calif. -- As families across California plan for upcoming spring travel, there's not much you can do to control the cost of filling up the gas tank, but you can avoid a costly ticket by making sure that everyone in the car wears their seat belt. Law enforcement throughout the state, including San Jose Police Department will be looking for unbelted drivers and passengers as part of the 2011 Click It or Ticket mobilization, May 23 -- June 5. The fines and fees for first time adult seat belt violations is a minimum of $142. For children under 16, the fine is $445 for a first time offense.

Because nighttime passenger vehicle occupants are among those least likely to buckle up and most likely to die in crashes when unrestrained, nighttime enforcement has become a priority of the Click It or Ticket mobilization. Nationwide, of those who died in nighttime crashes in 2009, nearly two-thirds (62 percent) were not wearing seat belts at the time of their fatal crashes.

"Many nighttime traffic deaths can be prevented if more motorists simply start wearing their seat belts. Law enforcement throughout the area will be looking for seat belt violators, day and night," said Police Chief Moore. "Citations will be issued without warning. It's not just about avoiding a costly ticket; it's about keeping the ones you care about alive. Remember to buckle up on every trip, day and night."

California's current seat belt use rate of 96.2 percent is at an all-time high, but that still leaves nearly one million people who are not buckling up, putting their lives at risk every time they get into the car. The Click It or Ticket mobilization is credited with increasing the state's adult seat belt usage rate from 92.5 percent in 2005 to 96.2 percent in 2010.

"We are very proud of California's seat belt and child safety seat use rates," said Christopher J. Murphy, Director of the California Office of Traffic Safety. "However, with nearly one million motorists still not buckling up, there is much more work to do. Reaching the last four percent of motorists is crucial to reaching our goal of zero deaths."

More than 600 permanent Click It or Ticket highway signs, which have been up since 2005, have been updated to reflect the 'Minimum $142' message as a reminder to motorists that failing to buckle up is costly.

Properly restrained drivers, passengers and children have a 50 percent better chance of surviving a crash than unbelted occupants. Those ejected from vehicles in crashes or roll-overs are up to 35 times more likely to die than restrained occupants. In 2009 alone, seat belts saved approximately 12,713 lives nationwide. In California, it is estimated that 320 people who were killed in 2009 would be alive today if they had been wearing seat belts.

More than 140 local law enforcement agencies statewide and the California Highway Patrol will be participating in this year's Click It or Ticket mobilization. Funding to support California's Click It or Ticket campaign was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Major Enforcement Effort Seeks to Save Lives

Sobriety Checkpoint

San Jose, California

Saturday, April 16, 2011

9:00PM to 3:00AM

San Jose Police Targets Impaired Drivers with Sobriety Checkpoint

The San Jose Police Department will conduct a sobriety and driver license checkpoint at South Bascom Avenue and Whitethorne Drive on Saturday, April 16, 2011, from 9:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m.

In an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol-related crashes, sobriety checkpoints are conducted to identify offenders and get them off the street, as well as to educate the public on the dangers of impaired driving.

All too often, members of our community are senselessly injured or killed on local roadways by impaired drivers. Checkpoints are implemented in an effort to reduce those tragedies. A major component of these checkpoints is to increase awareness about the dangers of impaired driving and to encourage sober designated drivers.

Sobriety checkpoints are a proven and effective method for achieving this goal. By publicizing these enforcement and educational efforts, the San Jose Police Department believes motorists can be deterred from drinking and driving.

Traffic volume and weather permitting, all vehicles entering the checkpoint may be checked, and drivers who are under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs will be arrested. Our objective is to send a clear message to those who are considering driving a motor vehicle after consuming alcohol and/or drugs: Drunk Driving, Over the Limit, Under Arrest.

The public is encouraged to help keep roadways safe by calling 9-1-1 if they observe a suspected impaired driver.

Funding for this operation is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS), through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

San Jose Police:Sobriety Checkpoint, Saturday, April 16, 2011.

Major Enforcement Effort Seeks to Save Lives

Sobriety Checkpoint
San Jose, California

Saturday, April 16, 2011

9:00PM to 3:00AM

San Jose Police Department Targets Impaired Drivers with Sobriety Checkpoint

The San Jose Police Department will conduct a sobriety in the city of San Jose on Saturday, April 12, 2011, from 9:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m.

In an effort to reduce the number of persons killed and injured in alcohol-related crashes, sobriety checkpoints are conducted to identify offenders and get them off the street, as well as to educate the public on the dangers of impaired driving. All too often, members of our community are senselessly injured or killed on local roadways by impaired drivers. Checkpoints are implemented in an effort to reduce those tragedies. A major component of these checkpoints is to increase awareness about the dangers of impaired driving and to encourage sober designated drivers.

Sobriety checkpoints are a proven and effective method for achieving this goal. By publicizing these enforcement and educational efforts, the San Jose Police Department believes motorists can be deterred from drinking and driving.

Traffic volume and weather permitting, all vehicles entering the checkpoint may be checked, and drivers who are under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs will be arrested. Our objective is to send a clear message to those who are considering driving a motor vehicle after consuming alcohol and/or drugs: Drunk Driving, Over the Limit, Under Arrest.

The public is encouraged to help keep roadways safe by calling 9-1-1 if they observe a suspected impaired driver.

Funding for this operation is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS), through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

The San Jose Police Department's DUI enforcement efforts are dedicated to the memory of 4-year-old Jose Cortes-Diaz, killed July 11, 2010 by a DUI driver, and to all victims of DUI-related incidents.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING AWARENESS VIDEO TO RUN IN SOUTH BAY MOVIE THEATERS BEGINNING APRIL 1st

San Jose Police, partners, create and launch video to educate movie-goers about modern-day slavery

In an effort to raise the public's awareness of modern-day slavery, the San Jose Police Department's Human Trafficking Task Force, working with the South Bay Coalition to End Human Trafficking, the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Office and federal agencies, will begin showing a 60-second video in South Bay movie theaters on April 1st. The public service announcement encourages persons to take action if they suspect a human trafficking situation by phoning the National Human Trafficking Hotline (1-888-3737-888). The campaign is made possible through a grant from the United States Department of Justice / Bureau of Justice Assistance.

The awareness campaign will run for 12 weeks, in 13 theaters, on over 90 screens, including the Eastridge Mall 15, Mercado 20, Oakridge 20, Salinas Northridge Mall 14, and Santa Cruz 9.

Since 2005 the SJPD task force has partnered with the South Bay Coalition to End Human Trafficking to identify and rescue victims of trafficking, provide comprehensive services to trafficking survivors, train law enforcement, and increase the public's awareness of trafficking. The task force and coalition bring together federal and local law enforcement agencies with victim-services professionals to provide a multi-disciplinary response for trafficking victims in the four South Bay counties; Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Monterey.

The video was designed by SJPD Police Artist Gil Zamora, and features original music and lyrics by San Jose musician Alyssa Rose.

The video can be viewed at: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Tw_rI8js810

The issue of modern-day slavery has been a focus of the U.S. Department of Justice since 2000, when Congress passed the Trafficking Victims Protection Act. The act defined trafficking as the obtaining of labor, or the act of commercial sexual exploitation, of a person through force, fraud, or coercion. A grant program created in 2005 funds 40 collaborative efforts nationwide. According to the 2010 Trafficking in Persons Report, issued by the Department of State, 12.3 million people are held in forced or bonded labor, or forced prostitution, worldwide.

According to South Bay Coalition to End Human Trafficking chairwoman Perla Flores, "Under the Trafficking Victims Protect Act, victims are guaranteed certain rights and services, such as immigration benefits, medical services, and pro bono or low-cost legal assistance. Working with the South Bay Coalition to End Human Trafficking, we are able to assist victims in reclaiming their inherent rights to safety, security, and hope."

The South Bay Coalition to End Human Trafficking is a collaborative of local victim-services providers including the Katharine and George Alexander Community Law Center, Next Door Solutions to Violence, Community Solutions, the YWCA of Silicon Valley, and others, and is funded through a grant from the U.S. DOJ / Office for Victims of Crime.

Law enforcement task force members include the San Jose Police, FBI, ICE, the Santa Clara County District Attorney's Office, the United States Attorney's Office, and the United States Department of Labor.
